Product overview

Dehydrated Cucumber Powder is made from high-quality cucumbers. Each dried cucumber powder is thoroughly cleaned, trimmed, cut, and selected. The raw materials are dried by controlled, moderately heated forced air. After dehydration, the cucumbers are sorted, sieved, and selected to the correct size, without sugar and any chemical additives in the organic cucumber powder.

Description

Cucumber powder is rich in vitamin E, and cucumber enzymes, and also contains trace elements such as chromium. Regular consumption of cucumber powder can resist aging and promote metabolism. The trace elements of organic cucumber powder can also lower blood sugar and play an important role in the dilation of blood sugar. Moreover, our cucumber powder also has the effects of clearing away heat, quenching thirst, distilling water, and reducing swelling.
